iVend Handheld Inventory Management

An Inventory Solution Designed To Maximize Retail Profits

Improve efficiency, gain visibility into stock and automate your hardest jobs.

Inventory control is crucial in retail, especially for stores with a large number or variety of SKUs. Without proper controls, a store may run out of stock or be burdened with slow moving products. While managing retail inventory traditionally requires long hours and can result in costly errors, a handheld solution for inventory improves data accuracy, better utilizes the retail workforce by providing a tool for store associates to check inventory in real-time, and assist customers with inventory and price information from anywhere on the store floor or warehouse.

iVend Handheld Inventory Management has been designed to be intuitive and extremely efficient. The handheld device coupled with powerful inventory management software enables users to enter transactions and perform inventory requests pertaining to goods and stocks in real-time. Transaction validation takes place online therefore insuring accurate data is maintained.

Using RF based handheld devices equipped with iVend Retail, store employees can update inventory faster, with minimal errors and provide the decision makers with visibility into real-time updates to stock status.
